Cumberland And Manchester Railroad to be Completed Immediately

The general contract for construction and track laying of the Cumberland and Manchester R.R. from the L. & N. R.R. at Barbourville in Knox County, Ky. to Manchester, Clay County, Ky. has been let to the Road Construction Company, of Philadelphia and Hazleton, Penna.

Their construction equipment has been shipped and work with a large force will commence within a week and it is expected that the road will be completed to Manchester about July 1st next.

Construction work has already been going on, for several months at the Barbourville end of the line, but work will now be started in various places along the entire line.

The Road Construction Co. is composed of A. C. Read of Philadelphia and A. A. Read of Hazleton, Pa. and have had large contracts on the Penna. RR. and Lehigh Valley RR.

The Cumberland & Manchester RR. will open up a very large field of bituminous and cannel coal and will make one billion feet of hardwood timber available to market. Chas. F. Heidrick of Brookville Pa. is President of the Cumberland & Manchester RR. and has headquarters at Barbourville, Ky.

The new road will be a feeder for the L. & N. RR.

Davenport, Wash.-When County Prosecutor, David McCallum, passed a horse hitched to a railing, the animal nipped at him and began to prance around. Struck by the strange actions, the prosecutor stopped and recognized a mare which he, as a farm lad, had raised but had not seen for eight years. Bystanders declared the horse's recognition of the man was unmistakable.

New York, N. Y.-Mrs. Jeanette Schwartz, 106-years-old, who weighed less than twenty-five pounds, died recently. She was two and a half feet tall. At a party held just before her death, she recited and danced. Of late she had the habit of awakening during the night and calling for a glass of beer.

SENATOR BOSWORTH

No man will be missed more in the next General Assembly, at Frankfort, than Senator Joe F. Bosworth, of Middlesboro. He has served in both the House and Senate with distinction, and great good to the Mountains of Kentucky.

In the Senate he was the equal of any man, and his power and influence was felt on every hand. The Seventeenth Senatorial District was well represented when Bosworth was at Frankfort. He secured more legislation for his District and this end of the State than any member ever sent from this part of Kentucky. All over the State he was hailed as the champion of Good Roads, and to him much credit is due for the Good Roads awakening in Kentucky. He procured the creation of several new Judicial Districts, which were badly needed reforms.

As our Representative and champion he was a pronounced success, and the District should never cease to acknowledge his worth, and praise his splendid work at Frankfort.

JUDGE SAMPSON IS URGED TO BE A CANDIDATE

The Louisville Times of Nov. 18th, has this to say about Judge Sampson:

"Aspirant for Appellate Bench." Friends of Circuit Judge Fleming D. Sampson, of Barbourville, who presides on the bench of the Knox-Whitley-McCreary Judicial district, have started a boom for him for the Republican nomination for Judge of the Court of Appeals from the Seventh Appellate District, which is made up of twenty-seven counties in Eastern Kentucky comprising practically all of the Tenth and Eleventh Congressional districts. The race will come off in 1916. Judge Sampson was nominated and elected without any opposition this year and his friends declare he will prove a stronger contender in the contest for a seat on the State's Highest Court. He has a strong following all over the mountain country."

The Seventh Appellate District is composed of twenty-seven counties, reaching from Whitley on the South to and including Boyd, on the north. This district gave 16000 Republican majority in the Governor's race, and it is safe bet that the Republican nominee will be elected next year. This end of the district has never elected a Judge of the Court of Appeals. For forty years or more the member of that court from this district resided in Mt. Sterling, Montgomery County. The present member, Judge Turner, is from Mt. Sterling, and his predecessors for a generation have come from the same place.

Judge Sampson has made a splendid record on the Circuit bench, and is well known throughout the Seventh Appellate District. One thing we recommend him highly to the law abiding and labor loving element, for is the stand he has taken for clean and decent elections. The District over which he presides can boast that within the last several years both the Primaries and General Elections have been unusually free from the use of whiskey and money and from all character of fraud. His friends claim that his entire District would be solidly behind him almost without regard to politics, and that the big end of the District so far as the Republican vote is concerned lies in the counties immediately adjoining his Districts, and that a nomination is easily within his grasp. It will be an honor to this end of the State and on which the mountain people ought to be proud to confer upon Judge Sampson.

Friends Of Long Ago

I sat one night, beneath the moss'd glow
And penned a verse on "Friends of long ago."

"Ah! Tell me where you are tonight," I wrote
With tear-dimmed eyes and choking tightened throat.

My verses finished, sped they on their way
And they were published, just the other day.

At yesternoon the mailman's
double ring Awakened me from dreams of balmey Spring.

My letter box was stuffed and flow'ring o'er.

A dozen missives lay upon the floor,
A nameless joy, a wild, costative thrill

Swept o'er me as I realized that Bill
And May, Clyde, Ned, Roy and Ruth and Joe

And all the other friends of long ago
Had each and every one sat down to write

And tell their old chum where they were that night.
The long-legged Joe

Gives tango lessons now, at ten per throw.

Dear little May, the shrimking
violin

Became a window-sill-singer suffragette!

While ragged Ned, who oft had naught to eat,

Has just cleaned up a million bucks
in wheat.

Old Jake, who blacked my eye
with fine effect,

Now tugs me by telegraph-cable
And Clyde, who wore long curls
till he was right.

Has just knocked out the champ,
Young Kid McPhate

And Roy, the smartest boy in town by far,

Now gathers nickels on a Broadway
cart.

Poor Bill! I feared that he'd go wrong some day -
He's in the Senate now, - perhaps to stay.

While Ruth, my sweetest niece,
excuse those grins - Sends photos of her kids - and six are twins!

CANNOT EX- PRESS TOO MUCH FAITH

That Is the Way Robert Mobley Reposes Confidence in Tanlac

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 25. Robert Mobley, who is probably the oldest restaurant proprietor in this city, made an interesting statement recently regarding the benefits he had obtained through the use of Tanlac. He said:

"Any man or woman, who is now suffering as I was, is very foolish to go on suffering when Tanlac can be had.

"For the past few years I have not enjoyed the very best of health. I was not real sick, but I was in a highly nervous run-down condition, and couldn't sleep well at nights.

"I had that tired out feeling and was weary of everything most of the time.

"My blood did not seem to circulate properly, and I felt chilly and all out of sorts, especially with a change of weather.

"Some days ago I learned of this Tanlac, and the work the medicine is doing convinced me that I ought to give it a trial. I got a bottle of it. I took a dose of the medicine right away and another dose at night. That night I slept fine, and next morning I felt fine.

"My nerves are now as steady as can be. I feel vigorous and am in good spirits. Tanlac is unlike anything I ever have used. I believe it will help anybody who will give it a fair trial like I did. I cannot express too much faith in such a medicine."

Tanlac, the premier preparation, is sold in Barbourville at the Herndon Drug Company's drug store.
